The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Anxious Reader:

You could try writing to the manufacturer if you are dissatisfied with your toiletries purchase. Perhaps someone will figure out a way, someday, to prevent high-powered commercials from exhorting shoppers with unrealistic superlatives into buying their products. Yes, Gillette was one of these.

An item by Associated Press the other day reported that Gillette was withdrawing two of their anti-perspirants products from the market less than a month after introducing them because they "produced mild inflammatory reactions under additional testing." The two are Gillette's Right Guard Extra Strength and Soft & Dri Extra Strength. Other Right Guard and Soft & Dri products were not involved.

The cosmetics and toiletry field has long been guilty of promising beauty of appearance, smell, size or shape from a can or bottle. A mature person will not expect all of these things to work wonders. But if skin irritation occurs, write the manufacturer.

A Look at Proposition I

The view of Proposition I, Governor Reagan's tax ceiling bill, can be split three ways—depending on your party affiliation your belief in what the politicians tell you, or what the press has to say.

Gov. Reagan claims Prop. I is one of the most crucial issues in state history. He says the Revenue Control and Tax Reduction Initiative will decide whether government spending can be allowed to grow until it gobbles up the lion's share of personal income, or whether government must be forced to live within the people's means. It would amend the State Constitution to reduce taxes by about 20% over a 15-year period and permanently limit the share of your personal income state government could spend.

This pronouncement immediately polarized the issue. The Demos saying it's a dupe and the GOPs claiming it is the best thing designed since store baked bread.

Then there are the opposers vs. the approvers. Individuals and groups show up for or against almost every important issue that involves a change. The same names repeatedly show up on the negative side; those who support issues can usually be found on the positive side. The side each takes is in line with the benefits that would derive from the proposition.

One opposing group claims passage of Prop. I would hike property taxes; reduce fire and police protection; require local income tax; cut library and park services and limit educational opportunities for children.

The third group is the media. Newspapers and broadcast stations study issues, interview people involved and report what is believed to be the facts. From a selected group of respected mediums we are reproducing their opinions regarding Prop. I.

SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER—... spending limitation ... is no more than government by the consent of the governed.

INDIANAPOLIS STAR—When it comes to extending controls ... a Republican and Democrat often stumble over each other's feet in their haste to sock it to the taxpayer public ... Reagan's California campaign is refreshing ... it is time someone took leadership in reversing the trend toward omnipotent government.

KNX Radio—... this initiative is a good idea. Every Californian now has the chance to turn a dream into reality that will save him money.

ANAHEIM BULLETIN—Reagan's proposal ... a slap in the face to those who would maneuver us into a socialist State.

INDEPENDENCE DAILY REPORTER, Independence, Kansas—Governor Reagan seems to be one of the few governmental executives ... who is honestly trying to do something about high taxes.

KERO, TV, Bakersfield—... the plan to place a constitutional limitation on the amount of taxes that can be extracted from Californians ... is exceptional ... when you consider that all taxes ... take 45 percent of income now ... and soon to climb to 50 percent. It's about time someone came up with a plan to halt the spiral.

NEWS, Savannah, Ga.—Constant but piecemeal increases in power and taxation amount to a backdoor approach to socialism. This is a dishonest process. Recently Governor Reagan made a proposal which, if carried out nationwide, would have the effect of nailing that door shut.

KGTV, San Diego—... the people of California should decide for themselves whether the taxes should be allowed to keep going up.

SUN SENTINEL, Pompano Beach, Fla.—Governor Reagan has taken the bull by the horns and is taking the people of that state to help him subdue it.

KFI RADIO, Los Angeles—... it's time for radical action. Unless something is done ... we're going to be paying more than half of our income to government it less than 20 years. The Reagan plan is just what the doctor ordered.

SELMA ENTERPRISE—The (governor's) plan has come under attack from those with a vested interest in spending other people's money. They are attempting to frighten them into believing the state needs an even higher portion of their hard-earned money.

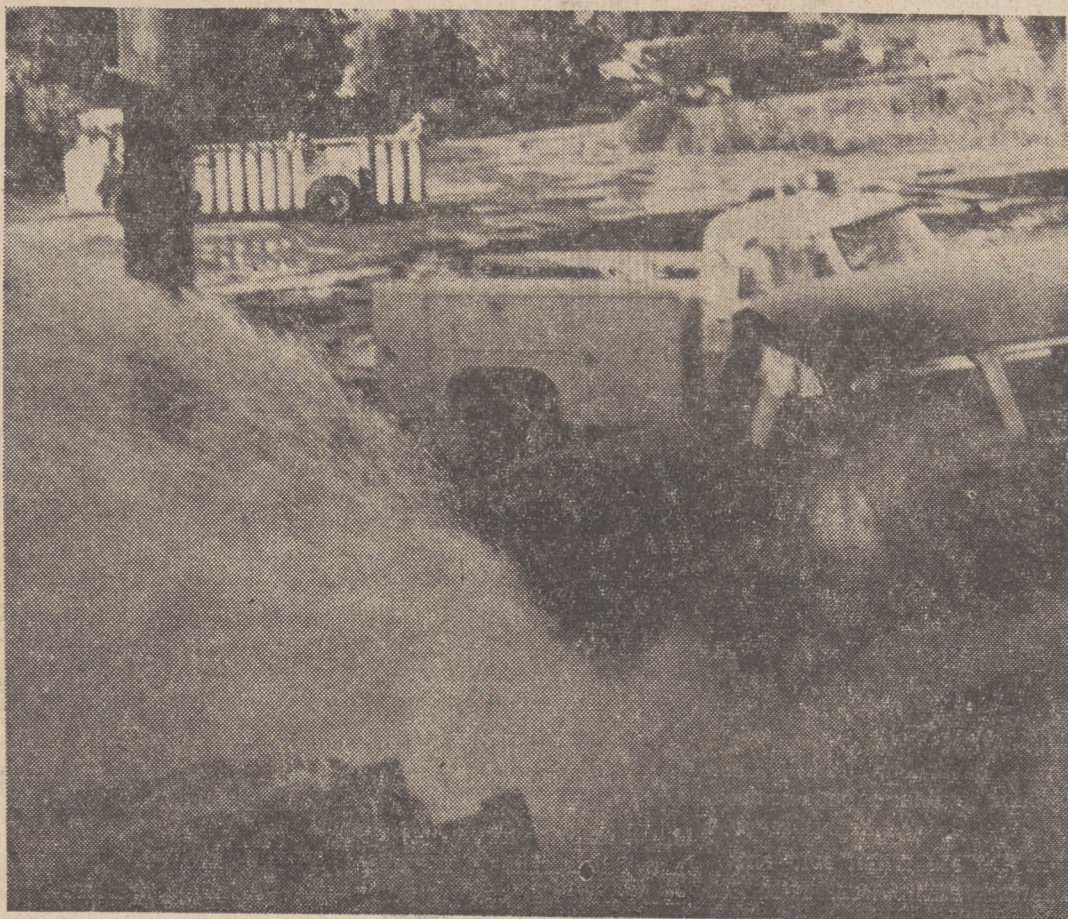

VISALIA TIMES-DELTA—... The plan appears to hold hope of establishing a realistic relationship between state spending and the personal income of Californians.

OCEANSIDE BLADE TRIBUNE—... the capacity of the government to spend ... certainly should be limited.

WALL STREET JOURNAL—The proposal is radical in that it acknowledges that there would be a limit to what percentage of an individual's income the government can properly claim. It is radical in that it would force legislators to adopt broad spending priorities rather than allow them to react to the demands of special interest groups by raising taxes.

AND THIS PUBLICATION says Prop. I is the most sensible piece of legislation to come out of Sacramento recently. It gives the taxpayer a chance to save himself from fiscal destitution.

Children Setting Many Fires

EXPENSIVE CAR WASH—This GMC truck sits over a fire plug that was knocked over on Costa Bella st., and North ave., last Thursday. Lemon Grove Fire Chief Fred Dixon said that troubles in locating valves in the early morning hours resulted in an estimated 240,000 gallons of water waste. The truck was owned by Richard Elwood of Spring Valley and driven by Brenda Smith also of Spring Valley. Dixon said the water flow lasted approximately 48 minutes. (Review-Bulletin Photo)

Local Fire Danger At Peak Time Chief Dixon Warns On Hazards

Last week was fire prevention week, and Lemon Grove firemen displayed their talents of the worst fire seasons in an open house Saturday to ever," he said.

Dixon in a plea to parents emphasized that school-age children have been setting grass fires and brush fires near the schools they attend. "This is a serious matter. There have been no serious injuries or deaths or damages yet, but it could well happen," he said.

Dixon pointed out that in a year that has already seen the worst timber and brush fires was almost impossible to bring the youngsters to court. "In the cases we brought, the signs have never been either get off light or it is thrown out," he added.

Set By Children

Parents could be held responsible for the fires set by their children, Dixon said. "The majority of our calls so far have been brush and grass fires set by the children," he added.

Dixon's firemen visited the schools in a test to see how the students reacted in fire drills. Capt. Bob Adams said he was impressed that the students reacted so well in almost all drills. "There were some students that played around a bit but they were generally well trained and knew how the drill was to be conducted," he said.

Protect Your Home

Dixon pointed out that the current fire hazard was a time for homeowners to check their areas and eliminate some potential fire measures. He suggested:

Provide space around your immediate home that is free of native brush. The key to protecting property from brush fires is vigorous brush clearance, and the more space cleared the better protected is the property. Even a small amount of brush removed is better than none at all.

Clear approaches to dwellings of debris such as litter, stacked lumber, lawn furniture, etc.

Screen off attic vents and openings underneath buildings.

Keep available extra garden hose and a ladder.

Post house numbers at the entrances of long driveways, so that emergency vehicles can locate addresses easily.

Home owners with swimming pools should buy auxiliary pumps and enough hose in order to use pools as sources of emergency water for firefighting.

Know What You Own

Dixon also urges residents of brush areas to take the precautionary step of inventorying their possessions. The inventory could make it possible to assess accurately and swiftly a home owner's true losses, expediting reimbursement from his insurance.

Women Present Urn

The Vogue section of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club was active in fire prevention week when they provided cookies for the Saturday Open House and presented the station with a new coffee urn.

According to Mrs. William Sayward, projects chairman the new urn was in appreciation for rapid response the firemen have shown in coming to the aid of the members.

Court Rules No Move For Kahan

Helix High School teacher Charles Kahan has been ordered not transferred to an office job with the Grossmont Union High School District by Superior Court Judge Eli Levenson, last Friday.

The court ordered the school board to retain Kahan in the Helix teaching position until Oct. 29. That's the date the district is appealing the decision by a state hearing officer that reinstated the teacher to his position.

Kahan, 41, was suspended twice from teaching after his indictment in an Arizona 1971 and federal court in 1972 on marijuana smuggling and ordered to spend six months in an honor camp. The case in Arizona was dismissed and the federal case Hansom lane, made his plea saw Kahan acquitted but on Sept. 24, and a charge of school board members fired burglary was dismissed. He him.

Kahan was reinstated by the color television set, stereo hearing officer and since has equipment and a Honda mini-used to obtain some $8,000 in bike from a San Diego garage, back pay.

An Open Letter

Dear: "Mr. Taxpayer"

By Ed Grantham

Dear Tax Payer:

You requested your newspaper editor to find out why your local area high or junior high school is burning up power during the energy crisis, by leaving the outside lights on. We have the answer ...

How does a bill for $23,898.46 sound ... That's what VANDALISM in the eight schools of this district cost you in the past year ... From July 1, 1972 to June 1973.

That's only part of the story ... At Helix in July 1972 the vandalism was a mere $291, at Granite Hills it was $129 and Monte Vista $162. El Capitan got off easy with a $60 bill. Want more ... We still have 11 more months to list and that doesn't include the months since July this year.

The total is staggering ... The damage is staggering ... The manpower to make these repairs is staggering ...

William F. Bradley, Chief, Building and Grounds for the Grossmont High School District says it will even cost you more this coming year.

This report is not complete without giving more facts ... In August 1972 the vandalism cost at El Cajon was $625, but that's nothing compared to the Monte Vista cost that month of $4,444.53 ... of your money.

Incidentally there was another $394.91 spent for the same reason at El Capitan and $292.43 at Santana. All total there was a $6,364.37 Vandalism bill for that month.

Here's more, September cost $658.20, October was another smasher with a total of $4,244.43, of which more than half went to the $2,795 bill at Santee Adult and another $1,049.29 at El Capitan.

November was a quiet period, it only cost you $239.81 in that month. January this year you paid out nearly a thousand dollars for Vandalism. In February it was over eight hundred and March climbed to a staggering $6,753.34.

April's cost was again the four-figure mark as you paid $1,672.34 for Vandalism.

Again in May it was over a thousand dollars with you the taxpayer picking up a tab of $1,140, and again in June you had to shell out $307.16.

Well parent ... that's why the lights are burning on our schools. That's why you are being asked for more and more hard earned dollars.

Why don't we do something about it ... Well we are, but that too costs money. Sure we can install automatic timers to cut on and off the power. Sure we can pay overtime to a teacher or building maintenance man to come in and turn off the power. Sure we can ... but what's the use ... It's only costing us $23,898.46 to pay for the things the lights don't keep the Vandals from doing.

I'm sorry, "Dear Citizen" that I couldn't get an answer on why the lights burn. Maybe you can try.

Sincerely, The Editor

SV Man Guilty on Burglary Charge

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A 23-year-old Spring Valley laborer, who had already pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property, was put on three years' probation Tuesday in Superior court on marijuana smuggling and ordered to spend six months in an honor camp.

Raymond Navarette, of 10933 Hansom lane, made his plea saw Kahan acquitted but on Sept. 24, and a charge of school board members fired burglary was dismissed. He him.

Sup. Brown Sells Firm to Avoid 'Appearance of Interest Conflict'

Supervisor Dick Brown is going out of business—but not out of politics.

He told reporters Monday that he had sold his interest in until after the railroad and stock in Brown Tool Engineering to devote his full attention to supervisory district-2 and his family.

His firm, located in El Cajon, was sold to Max Gurth, also of El Cajon. He said he maintained no interest in the firm and had leased the building to Gurth "at a very competitive rental ... 10 cents a square foot."

He said he sold the firm to also "divest myself of an appearance of conflict of interest" and to devote some of the residual time to his family.

Brown started the firm from scratch 17 years ago in the garage of his home.

He had strong sentiments about supervisors who speculated in land, naming Jim Bear as a case in point. "Any one in a position such as this absolutely should not be involved in land speculation in any kind of real estate within the county," Brown said. "I feel very strongly about that."

He told reporters who attended the 9 a.m. conference that you asked a specific question (about Jim Bear) so I gave you a specific answer.

Regarding the sale of his firm he said "In my own mind there was no other way." Adding "While there was no conflict of interest, the thought always in my mind. As chairman of the State Board of Transportation we could have done work for Rohr, Douglas or Boeing. They are involved in transportation projects. While there is no conflict it is important what people might think. In my own mind there was no other way."

He said that he would suffer a substantial economic sacrifice as a result of the sale. The firm, he said, did $350,000 a year ago.

There was extra work for the sheriff's men when they had to man two points along Imperial ave., to direct traffic from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., around the railway crossing.

The county engineer also reported that the construction was moving along at a good rate and they were on schedule. The construction is programmed for completion in mid-December.

The structure covers 67,500 square feet with leasing space available in 800-20,000 square feet units. An additional 13 acres is available for expansion. The facility is already 60 percent leased, according to the T. J. Bettes Co. of New England, the developer.

New Lights For CHP Patrol Car

Rotating blue lights will join the familiar red and amber warning lights on patrol cars of the California Highway Patrol. For the first time, light bars incorporating blue are being installed on top of CHP cars in the San Francisco bay area, the Los Angeles region and San Diego.

The experimental roof-mounted units also include an electronic siren and a public address system.

The blue lights are the result of research which showed blue to be more visible at night and red during the day. Thus blue and red will be combined in the light bar and will operate simultaneously, under emergency conditions.

By the first of the year in about 150 of the new light bars will be in operation, and by spring over 300 will have been installed on new patrol cars in the three metropolitan areas. Ultimately all CHP patrol cars will be equipped.

Broadway Traffic Back To Near Normal Tomorrow

Traffic over the San Diego and Arizona Eastern Railroad at Broadway in Lemon Grove should be back to near normal tomorrow, a county construction engineer reported.

The much-used rail crossing was closed from Monday Oct. 15 to allow the railroad to raise the tracks to meet highway construction levels that are now being made on the roadway.

The engineer also said that the section of Broadway now under construction would not be closed to construct the center divider until sometime later.

"We won't be putting that in until after the entire roadway has been paved," he said. There had been many complaints from business men along the roadway about the present construction and the manner in which traffic has been routed into parking areas near the stores.

The construction of the curbs along the Broadway section, has closed many entrances, including the one to the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station.

"It has created some problems," a member of the station said. "Many drivers are entering the parking area in front of the station the wrong way and then trying to turn around," he added.

There was extra work for the sheriff's men when they had to man two points along Imperial ave., to direct traffic from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., around the railway crossing.

The county engineer also reported that the construction was moving along at a good rate and they were on schedule. The construction is programmed for completion in mid-December.

YMCA Girls Now Can Vote On Policies

The fifteen year-old members of the Young Women's Christian Association are now authorized to vote on YWCA policies and program decisions. The extension of this right to so young a group is almost unique among civic organizations.

It is being celebrated during National Y-Teen Week, October 14-20. Mrs. Elaine Asquith, director of the local Y-Teen division, added that the YWCA has a total of some 400,000 members from the ages of 12 to 17.

"One of their activities that gives them the greatest satisfaction," she explained, "is counselling those of their own age about the hazards of drug abuse. They believe that, if for example, fifteen year-olds reach other fifteen year-olds who may be on the verge of experimenting with drugs, they can possibly have more influence on them than an adult counselor. Parents tell me that when their daughters succeed, they feel they've done something tremendously worthwhile."

Parents have also told Mrs. Asquith they are amazed at the concern their children have for their contemporaries in impoverished and developing countries.

CMA Alerts Parents

Immunization Level Drops For Children Doctors Warn

During October, national Immunization Action Month, California parents are urged to join those throughout the nation in giving their children immunization protection from the infectious diseases of childhood, says the California Medical Association.

Diphtheria, tetanus, polio and measles are the four diseases for which immunization are most essential, although immunizations can be beneficial in combatting some other diseases as well, the 26,000 doctor association advises.

For years, immunization of children was widespread. As immunizations virtually wiped out such childhood diseases as polio, many parents became complacent and have failed to have their children immunized. Consequently, the immunization level of our childhood population has dropped—most seriously among children of the poor and near poor—and the prospect of a return of the almost-forgotten childhood infectious diseases is a real threat.

Properly Protected To nip this threat in the bud, CMA urges all parents to make sure that their children are properly protected. Needed immunizations should be obtained through family physicians or public health clinics for:

Dread Disease Poliomyelitis—Polio was the "dread disease," for good reason, a generation ago. Immunization has reduced the incidence in the United States from more than 57,000 cases a year to only five cases during the first nine months of 1973. However, a federal survey last year showed that only 63 percent of children aged 1-4 were adequately protected against polio, the lowest percentage in 15 years.

Three doses, taken by mouth, of the live virus vaccine are necessary. The first two doses are given two months apart and the third dose six months to a year later. Polio vaccine may be given concurrently with DPT, although many physicians prefer to separate the two. Boosters for polio are unnecessary, unless traveling in an area where the disease is common. There is less than one chance in a million of suffering paralysis as a result of polio vaccine—comparable to the risks of transportation, medications or even certain foods. Doctors deem this risk small indeed, in relation to the vaccine's extraordinary success in curbing polio in the population as a whole.

Adults do not need the vaccine unless they have unusual exposure to polio. Universal immunization of children will provide great protection to adults.

Measles—The extreme severity of this disease and its complications, together with the continued success of immunization, makes measles immunization essential. It is given at one year of age; if given earlier it is not reliable. Very mild reactions, such as fever and rash, sometimes occur; serious reactions are rare. Almost every unimmunized child will have measles by early school years.

Mt. Miguel

Students, teachers, coaches, PTA will be an Open House today with the parents having the opportunity to not only meet all of their children's teachers, but also be able to go through a simulated daily schedule of classes. All parents are heartily encouraged to come to the open house. Refreshments will be served. The evening's program will commence at 7:30 p.m.

Swimmers are limited to one continuous two-hour period of swimming or a maximum of 200 widths of the pool, whichever comes first. Sponsors of the swimmers are pledging various amounts per laps and the goal is to achieve $1 per lap.

Come out and enjoy a "fun" day — support your local swimmers and pledge your financial support — (donations are tax-deductible). The "Pool-A-Thon" will run continuously from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Lemon Grove Senior Citizens recently contributed $100 to the Miguel Community Aquatic Center Fund. They expressed the hope that other local service organizations would lend their financial support to this worthwhile cause.

Donors to the Miguel Community Aquatic Center Fund are awaiting the Christmas concert being held at Mt. Miguel gym on Dec. 14, as some lucky donor will be the recipient of a brand-new 1974 Ford Pinto 3-door Runabout. For more details, donors should contact Mr. White at 463-5551.

This is a joint effort of the Spring Valley Parents Teachers Assoc. and Community Welfare Inc.

Hours of operation are, Oct. 19, 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Oct. 20 (1 1/2 price day) 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Judy Johnson, director of early childhood education for Lemon Grove School District, Miss Toni Budich, kindergarten teacher, and Andrew Webb, reading specialist, explained the pilot programs for four year olds at San Miguel School and answered questions on this state funded program.

Following district evaluation, a preschool experience is expected to be available to all area schools with first implementation at the schools with greatest need as determined by reading scores.

Mrs. Sharon Foster, PTA president, conducted the regular business meeting for October, and plans for the Halloween carnival from 4 until 8 p.m. on Oct. 26 were discussed. Harold Ball, principal, introduced the teachers and staff for this year, and the meeting adjourned with refreshments served by PTA board members.

MARCO POLO COFFEE—Members of the Mt. Miguel High School Boosters Club attend a coffee given by Mrs. Gloria Connolly (left) to help support the fund drive for the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove community swimming pool. Attending the coffee were Mrs. Mary Pullan and Mrs. Beverly Schuff.

Mt. Miguel Boosters Urge Pool Support

Fund drives are underway to build a community pool to be located at Mt. Miguel High School. The Mt. Miguel Boosters have as their main fund drive a "Marco-Polo" diminishing coffee.

Mrs. Gloria Connolly, ways and means chairman, is encouraged by the communities response. The first coffee was held by Mrs. Connolly, who had invited eight of her friends in for coffee, and a chat about the plans for the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley community pool.

Each of her guests donated one dollar and gave her a promise to invite seven guests into their home. These seven guests each promised to give a coffee for six plus a one dollar donation and it continues to diminish until it's a coffee for one.

"Some of the coffees have diminished down to four guests already while others are still at six. Mrs. Connolly states that this is a unique and easy way to raise money for the pool and urges everyone to participate.

She also says it's very important to try to hold your coffee within a week from the time you attend so the money can be turned over to the Mt. Miguel Community Aquatic Center treasury.

Other drives under way include raffle tickets on a 1974 Pinto Runabout and a Pool-A-Thon to be held Nov. 3 at Gunther Pool, El Cajon. Mrs. Bill White, Lemon Grove, is chairman of the Pinto raffle and reports she is very happy with the ticket sales although she still has tickets available. The car will be raffled off on Dec. 14.

Mrs. Betty Sanders and Mrs. Fran Zak are co-chairmen for the Pool-A-Thon to be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Nov. 3 at Gunther Pool. Young and old alike are urged to pick up a sponsor sheet, get sponsors and swim. A strong swimmer may be sponsored for a few cents a lap while a weaker swimmer may be sponsored for a set amount regardless of how many laps they swim.

Anyone wishing a sponsor sheet can pick them up at Mt. Miguel High School or by contacting Bob Sanders at 463-5551, ext. 3.

KEYS AND HANDSHAKE—Thus did the oldest business firm in Lemon Grove change hands. A. E. "Molly" Mouillesseaux, 58, left, who has owned and operated Molly's Broadway Texaco station, at Broadway and Massachusetts in Lemon Grove for 22 years sold his station earlier this month to Fred De Luca, of 2732 Mercury dr., Lemon Grove.

Oldest Lemon Grove Firm Changes Hands

A Lemon Grove landmark has changed hands.

The Texaco gasoline service station at Broadway and Massachusetts, owned by A. E. "Molly" Mouillesseaux from the time it was a two-bay, three-pump facility 22 years ago, to the present corner covering modern station it now is, has been sold to another Lemon Grove resident—Fred De Luca. The price of the sale was not divulged.

De Luca is an Italian born Frenchman who came here in 1966 and was associated with Lube Equipment Co., and oil product firm owned by still another Lemon Grove resident—R. H. Shaw.

De Luca said he would follow Molly's policies. "I want to convince people they'll continue to get an honest deal here," he said.

The station has complete campers' service in addition to the service station items. A miniature market provides supplies. A repair service is also maintained.

Molly said that when the Broadway saloon was demolished two months ago to make room for an office building on the south side of Broadway, a block east of his station, his Texaco station then

Off Broadway WinterSlate

Producers Don Wortman and Tom Hartzog of the Off Broadway Theatre in San Diego announced that the first two plays of the Winter Season will be "Status Quo Vadis" and "Ben Bagley's Decline and Fall of the Entire World As Seen Through The Eyes of Cole Porter".

"Status Quo Vadis" will make a premiere appearance for the first time on the West Coast on Nov. 13, opening the following evening. Award-winning Donald Driver will direct. A modern and current comedy, "Quo Vadis" deals with the 'status quo' lifestyles on three levels of a segment of our society. The production, during its 53 weeks in Chicago and 5 week run in Washington, D.C., grossed over a million and a half dollars, with unanimous critical acclaim. Casting is in progress and will be announced soon.

"The Decline and Fall of the Entire World As Seen Through the Eyes of Cole Porter", originally scheduled for the Off Broadway on Nov. 13 moves to a premiere opening on Dec. 26, with opening night set for Dec. 27. A special New Year's Eve performance is also on schedule. Harold Lang, well known for his choreography and staging, and his many starring roles in major theatrical productions* ("Pal Joey, Kiss Me Kate" etc.), will stage and choreograph the San Diego production for Producers Wortman and Hartzog. The all-star cast will be announced shortly.

"We feel extremely happy to be able to bring both shows to the Off Broadway Theatre," Producers Wortman and Hartzog said. "Especially since Quo Vadis, as a contemporary comedy with a modern flair will make its West Coast Premiere here. We changed our season schedule to accommodate "Quo Vadis", but we're certain San Diego audiences will react with the same enthusiasm we have."

The Off Broadway Theatre is located at 314 F st., San Diego, with a Box Office number of 235-6135.

Local Scouts Had A Busy Summer

Training in Scout program skills was experienced by more than 3,000 Scouts from this area at the summer camps of the San Diego Council, Boy Scouts of America.

As part of their year-round camping program, 221 troops attended the camps last summer, according to Dr. Thomas of La Mesa, Chairman of the Camping Committee.

In addition to the troops that used the outdoor training center of the San Diego Council, many troops made trips that took them to such areas as San Jacinto, San Geronimo, Yosemite and Teton National Parks, and many locations along the rivers and lakes in Southern California and Arizona.

The Scouting council was also represented at the National Jamboree West at Farragut State Park in Iowa and Jamboree East at Moraine State Park in Pennsylvania.

"All of these types of camping experiences are highlights for the program of our troops. Scouts learn and apply the skills they have been dreaming about all year, and it's a year's worth of adventure compressed into a week or so," Webster said.

University Students Top Enrollment Plans

Enrollment at United States International University has exceeded officials' pre-school estimates, USIU registrar James B. Way said this week.

For the two San Diego campuses, the main campus at Elliott and the downtown Law Center, which houses the University's School of Law, the enrollment figures show proportionate increases over last year. Total numbers of students locally have reached 4,150, which is 350 more than estimated and 485 more than in 1972. The F.T.E. figure for San Diego is 3,115 which compares with 2,873 full-time equivalent students in 1972.

Avocado Seed Can Become Magnificent Houseplant

Green thumb or not, the fact is you can grow an avocado houseplant. No special equipment or talent is needed, just some tender loving care and a little magic called patience.

Your only special needs are the pit from one California avocado, and the suggested guidelines listed below.

To begin the plant, wash the reserved pit in warm water and remove all fragments of fruit. The plant is tropical in origin and responds best to warm temperatures in both water and climate. Remove any skin that peels freely from the pit. Once in awhile the pit may be split or curled roots may be tucked under it. If you find seeds in this condition, don't worry. They will be almost certain to sprout.

Insert three wooden toothpicks into the circumference of the seed at regular intervals. This serves as a frame work to suspend the pit half way submerged in a large glass. Fill the glass with warm water, suspend the seed broad end down so that it is half in and half out of the water. Place the "incubator" in the warmest spot you can find, free from strong light, drafts or fumes. Maintain a constant water level as time passes, always keeping the base immersed 1/2 inch.

Now, sit back and be patient. Avocado pits have their own personalities. Some begin to split and root in several weeks, others will take their sweet time, often up to six or eight weeks. There is no hard and fast rule. The roots are vital. They must be well developed before the plant can take to soil.

Somewhere along the root development, the main stem peaks through the split seed.

Sculpture Show

For one week, Sunday Oct. 21 through 28, the May S. Marcy Sculpture Court and Garden of the Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego, Balboa Park, will be recognized as the United Nations Sculpture Court and Garden in recognition of United Nations Week.

The works of sculpture in the Court and Garden represent a harmonious congregation of nationalities which co-exist in perfect concord. Nations represented by their leading sculptors include: England, Henry Moore, Dame Barbara Hepworth, Italy, Marino Marini, America, Saul Baizerman, David Smith, Alexander Calder, George Rickey, Mexico, Francisco Zuniga, Gaston Gonzales, France, Aristide Maillol, and Spain, Joan Miro.

Monarchs Stampede 42-20 In Win Over El Cajon

EL CAJON — Monte Vista's first Monte Vista offensive at- tack. On the initial drive Monarchs traveled to El Cajon last Friday night to face Le- Roy McGee and his El Cajon teammates and returned home with a convincing 42-20 win. The pass for the PAT over the Braves for their first league win of the season a 6-0 lead, an edge that stood against one loss. The win up gave the Monarchs a 3-1 over- all mark for 1973.

The Monarchs, who accom- plished 22 first downs and nearly 450 yards total offense, were aided by the Braves and officials. The officials whistled the Braves 16 times for in- fractions resulting in 169 yards in penalties.

The game was expected to be a tough struggle for both teams, although wide open as both have explosive offenses. For the Monarchs the offensive attack was a complete team effort, while the Braves relied on the work of McGee who has amassed over 550 yards in 90 carries for 10 touchdowns and a nifty 6.2 rushing average.

Tom Wright had a big night for the winning Monarchs as he scored the first touch- down of the night after sev- eral long gainers during the Monte Vista moved in front in the second period when Mitch Bonilla and Steve Per- due collaborated on a 59-yard touchdown, the first of two tallies for Bonilla. Jeff God- win added the PAT and the Monarchs forged ahead, 13-0.

McGee put the Braves on the board in the second quar- ter with his first of three one- yard scoring runs. A Jim Crowl run for the PAT nar- rowed the Monarch lead, 14-8.

With the Braves moving in, the Monarchs stepped out, adding another second quarter touchdown on a 14-yard run by Wright and a successful PAT boot by Godwin for a 20-8 halftime lead.

El Cajon stormed back in the third quarter when McGee they host the Helix Highland- scored from the one, but the ers in an 8 p.m. contest on PAT two-point attempt failed the Monarch turf.

BIG NIGHT — While Grossmont was keying on Mount Miguel's Tom Gallagher, Steve Fleming (20) romped for 103 yards on 44 carries and one touchdown as Matadors downed Foothillers, 23-14, in crucial Grossmont League skirmish. Matadors travel to Granite Hills tomorrow night. (Bill Ott, Jr. Photo)

Miguel Rolls Over Grossmont 23-14 In A Power Struggle

By Bill Ott Jr.

SPRING VALLEY — Mount and helping Madigan call plays, while constantly shout- ing advice and encouragement to his teammates in their cru- cial battle for the league title and the playoffs.

Grossmont finished the game leading in the statistics, but trailing on the scoreboard. The Foothillers marched up and down the field for 23 first downs, compiling 178 yards through the air and 208 yards on the ground, while holding the winners to just 12 first downs, 233 yards on the ground and 16 yards passing.

With Madigan calling the signals, the Matadors used the option effectively. Grossmont was keying on Tom Gallagher, enabling his running mate, Steve Fleming, and Madigan to pick up valuable real estate throughout the evening.

Both teams had trouble scoring in the first quarter, when Rundle found Kevin Stevens open on a 23-yard scoring pass.

Grossmont was paced by Jouglet and Stevens. Jouglet stacked up 92 yards on 22 iods. Sidewinder John Hulsey booted the PAT and the Mata- dors were ahead, 7-0.

Madigan put the Matadors in front for good in the third period. Rolling left, the quick quarterback tucked the ball in and romped 25 yards for a touchdown. The pass for the PAT failed and the Matadors led, 13-8. Hulsey completed the third quarter scoring with a 13-yard field goal and a 16-8 Matador lead.

Madigan scored his second touchdown of the night in the fourth quarter with a 'one- yard keeper. Hulsey booted the PAT and the Miguel charges moved in front, 23-8.

The final score of the game came in the fourth quarter when Rundle found Kevin Stevens open on a 23-yard scoring pass.

Grossmont was paced by Jouglet and Stevens. Jouglet stacked up 92 yards on 22 iods. Sidewinder John Hulsey booted the PAT and the Mata- dors were ahead, 7-0.

Roland Jouglet put the nine receptions.

Aztecs Off to Stockton With a Displeased Coach

University of Pacific, Stock- ton, the team that annually proves to be one of the tough- est tests of the season, is next up for S.D. State U. as the Aztecs open the Pacific Coast Athletic Association football season Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Pacific's Memorial Stadium at Stockton.

The Aztecs hold an 8-7 edge in the series that dates back to 1935 and have won the last seven games in a row, but the final four games of the series have all been close. In 1969, Dennis Shaw and the Aztecs had to rally to top the Tigers 38-32. Tim Delaney had to make a miracle catch to pull out a 14-13 game in 1970. San Diego won a 14-7 game in 1971 and last season the Aztecs used a ball control passing at- tack to win 20-7.

Despite the shutout of New Mexico State, S.D. State head coach Claude Gilbert was not happy with the San Diego State performance. "We played terrible," Gilbert said. "We were very flat and absolutely horrible in all areas. We had good practices all week and I thought we'd break loose, but we didn't. Many of the things we wanted to do were there, but we just didn't ex- ecute well enough. Individually we did some good things both on offense and defense, but as a team—no."

One of the top individual efforts of the night was by Aztec quarterback Jesse Frei- tas who completed 18 of 28 passes for 260 yards and a hard work, but seems con- fident. For his efforts, dent of a successful season.

Freitas was named PCAA Of- fensive Player of the Week. Freitas accomplished his feat in less than three quarters. He left the game with hip pointer, and moments later his replacement Dick Clyde left the game with an ankle in- jury.

Helix Tennis Team Ready For Season

Helix High School girls' tennis team returns to the courts this season with sev- eral very promising and tal- ented young players, accord- ing to coach Agnes King.

This year's goal will be to win their seventh straight lea- gue title, with the toughest competition probably coming from Grossmont High School.

Outstanding returnees from last year's team are seniors Wendy Tapper, a singles play- er who is also the only three- year letterman on the team, Debi Baer, single player, and Sharon Nicodemus, doubles player. Strong doubles play- ers this year include Barbara Greer, Cheryl Honz, Laura Officer, Judy Schimke, Leslie Toombs, Pam Ward, and Mary Weld.

Several promising freshmen include Margaret Armer, De- anna Castro, Diana Hutchin- son, and Elise Ruden.

Coach King says she is looking forward to a lot of hard work, but seems con- fident of a successful season.

Andy Williams Open Booked for Jan. 22

Back on the dates that made it possible to draw the world's top players, the seventh an- nual $170,000 Andy Williams San Diego Open and Celebrity Pro-Am will open its six-day run on January 22 with a re- vised format.

First day of the Celebrity Pro-Am will be held at La Costa and Lomas Santa Fe Country Clubs instead of the 1973 combination of La Costa and North Torrey Pines.

Second day of the Pro-Am and the first two days of the Open will be played on the Torrey Pines North and South Courses. Following the cut, the final two days of the Open will be on Torrey Pines South.

Fivesomes made up of four amateurs and one professional will tee off in the Pro-Am this year instead of foursomes as in past years.

The tourney dates return the AWSDO to the fourth po- sition on the Western winter tour. Last February's Open was the seventh and final stop before the tour moved to Flor- ida, costing the event here some big names.

New greens to be readied for the 1974 AWSDO are on holes 2, 6, 7, 8, 11, 14, 16 and 17 of the South course and 3, 11 and 13 of the North.

This year's innovations were announced by Hal Teb- betts, who will be serving his second year as general chair- man of the event. Norrie West continues as executive direc- tor.

Defending titlist will be Bob Dickson, who, like other past AWSDO winners Tom Weis- kopf and Pete Brown, scored his first big tour win here at Torrey Pines.

An El Cajon firm, Carbon- ite, is making a golf shaft that the manufacturer says not only gives distance but de- livers accuracy.

The club has a graphite shaft and has high torque— resistance to twist.

The firm claims that the Carbonite shaft minimizes the clubhead distortion to zero. "The clubhead doesn't twist out of alignment," Robert Basso, carbonite president said.

Carbon-graphite was origi- nally developed for the aircraft industry where high strength- low weight ratio was vital.

When pressure-fused, carbon- graphite is five times strong- er than steel and weighs only one fourth as much. The light- er shaft means a better weight ratio between shaft and clubhead, producing fast- er clubhead speed.

Domestic sales of Carbon- ite shaft are handled by Graphite Sales of El Cajon.

Looking At The League

In addition to wins by both Mount Miguel and Monte Vista, Santana and El Capitan both emerged from last Friday night's Grossmont League football action with victories.

Santana coupled five interceptions with the toe of Wes Hancock for a narrow 10-9 triumph over Helix on the loser's field. For Hancock it was his second straight game that his toe played an important role. Two weeks ago he booted two field goals for a 6-6 tie with Mount Miguel, and last Friday he successfully kicked the PAT and added a 30 yard three-pointer in the fourth quarter to give the Sultans a come-from-behind win.

Both teams scored in the first quarter with Santana successfully adding the PAT for a 7-6 advantage, a score that held until the third period when Helix' Grove booted a 24-yard field goal for the lone score in the third period and a 9-7 Helix lead until Hancock's big boot in the final stanza.

For Granite Hills it was another disappointing night. The Eagles were one of the pre-season favorites for the championship, but have failed to impress and win in two league outings, bowing to Helix in their opener and losing to undefeated El Capitan, 20-14 last Friday night.

The Eagles blew a 14-point lead in succumbing to the surprising Vaqueros. Leading 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, they saw their lead slip to 14-7 at the half. El Cap added 13 points in the third period for the win as both teams failed to score in the final chapter. Larry Downs scored by Granite Hills touchdowns, while Art Preston scored two of the three El Cap six-pointers.

Svare Meets Van Brocklin in Sunday's Charger-Falcon Game

Putting non-win hostility to one side, the Chargers Sunday game wasn't half bad. Dan Fouts threw two touchdowns, one each to Jim Thaxton and Jerry LeVias. Rick Redman made 14 tackles, a fumble recovery and a qb sack. Little Ron Holliday scampered well. All of which led Coach Harlan Svare to observe. "We lost nobody likes to lose. But I liked the way our team fought against a very good team. When they fight like that I cannot be disappointed. Fouts was terrific." The score: Oakland Raiders 27; Chargers 17. But the Chargers were leading going into the fourth quarter. 50,762 fans attended the fracas.

But the attention now is on the Atlanta Falcons. They will meet in their first NFL game Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Stadium. Svare named Fouts as the starting quarterback who will be tested by the Falcons No. 1 ranked National Conference pass defense.

Svare, himself, will face some pretty good coaching. Atlanta's Norm Van Brocklin, a Hall of Fame passing quarterback who has become a ground man. He will showcase Dave Hampton and Art Malone, 995 and 798 yards rushing last year. Svare has been complaining about his team's ground game but this week he said the rushers are beginning to jell.

At press time, the game had not been sold out and the prospect of the Chargers going on the teevee air looked extremely remote. About 10,000 tickets were available Wednesday.

However, the game will be broadcast over KDEO and the Charger network. The game will be telecast live to Atlanta.

PSA To Make Awards At Friday Banquet

A world champion sprinter will be honored by the Pacific Southwest Association of the Amateur Athletic Union Friday at 7:30 at the group's annual awards banquet at the Town and Country Convention Center.

Recipient of the award will be Steve Williams of the San Diego Track Club who has twice tied the world's record for the 100 yard dash with a time of 9.1 at the West Coast Relays in May.

President of the Pacific Southwest board of governors Jack Krasovich said the AAU awards are presented to those San Diego area distinguished athletes in national or international competition.

Awards will be given in eight separate sports, including diving, long distance running, swimming, men's track, women's track, judo, weightlifting and wrestling.

Diver Gregory Louganis will receive the Don Vynne Memorial award which will be presented by City Councilwoman Maureen O'Connor.

The award is in memory of the late Don Vynne, aquatic superintendent for the city of San Diego and founder of the AAU in 1946.

Greg Louganis, 13, of La Mesa will be recognized for winning the national 1 and 3-meter board diving championships for 13 and 14-year olds at meets in Houston and in Belgium.

Harriers Breeze

Grossmont College increased its five-year dual meet winning streak to 35 with wins over Chaffey (16-45) and Riverside (15-45) last week.

Terry Cotton won his fourth straight race in as many outings. He covered the four-mile Santee Lakes course in 20:23. Gary Close was second at 20:49 and George Pullen and John Blair tied for third at 21:23.

Grossmont will close out the 1973 conference schedule at Northwestern College Friday with a double-dual against the Apaches and San Diego City College.

No Trout Fishing At Lake Jennings

Lake Jennings will not be open for trout fishing in November as has been traditional.

A shortage of trout caused the Helix Water District board of directors to take the action this week.

The shortage stems from a fish virus, IPN, that has infested California hatcheries. The virus is not harmful to humans, affects only fingerlings. But the condition is so persistent that it will affect all San Diego County trout lakes this year.

California Department of Game and Fish officials have refused to permit trout to be imported from other states, fearing additional infection in California waters.

There was no estimate as to when the virus could be brought under control.

U. of S.D. (4-1) Plays St. Mary's at Moraga

Tailback Rich Paulson's devastating running leads a University of San Diego football team to its Saturday afternoon rendezvous at Moraga with St. Mary's College.

USD, 4-1, for the season, shoots for a school-tying mark of five straight victories when it battles the Galloping Gaels in a 1:30 p.m. contest.

The Toreros will blend an offense that has averaged 406.8 yards a game with a defensive unit that has surrendered 215.6 yards, 89.2 rushing and 126.4 passing.

Paulson, a 5-11, 180 pounder from L.A. Harbor College, raced for 203 yards and three touchdowns in last week's 31-14 triumph over a tough La Verne squad. His three scores gave him 11 for the year, tying a USD single season mark.

Walter-Pantazoplus Announce Marriage

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pantazoplus of 2968 Washington st., Lemon Grove.

The ceremony took place in Las Vegas.

Both are graduates from Mount Miguel.

The couple will reside in Lemon Grove.

Breitbart Foundation Cires Craig Stadler

Latest in a long line of outstanding San Diego golf developments, Craig Stadler has been named the Breitbart Athletic Foundation's Sept. Star of the Month for his achievement in winning the 73rd U. S. Amateur championship.

The young La Jolla captured the title at Toledo and in doing so defeated such prominent opponents as Dick Siderowf, current British Amateur champ, and Vinny Giles, who had won the U. S. Amateur crown in 1972.

Stadler, who also was named to the collegiate All-America team while playing for University of Southern California, duplicated the performance of another La Jolla, Gene Littler, who won the U. S. Amateur in 1953, the year of Stadler's birth.

Awards of Merit were made to Billy Watts, winner of the men's open national speed water skiing championship; Kenny Roberts, who captured the 176-mile expert junior motorcycle feature at Ontario Speedway; Doug Peterson, skipper of the second finishing Ganbare in the World One Ton Cup yachting competition at Sardinia, Italy, and Eileen Waters, of the S.D. Track Club who set a U. S. women's record for the 50-mile run.

Griffs Lose Another

Although it may be too early for Christmas, Grossmont College is busy gift-wrapping football victories for opposing Mission Conference football teams.

It was Saddleback College that received the latest present, a 20-13 victory from the Griffins Saturday night. The Griffins lost a fumble inside the 10 yardline for the second straight week and it cost them the ballgame.

As usually is the case, the Griffins outgained the opposition, 338-275. Tailback Frank Woolrich racked up 157 yards and scored his sixth and seventh touchdowns of the season on 25 carries. Woolrich now has 698 yards rushing and needs only 75 yards Saturday night against Chaffey to equal the rush record of 773 set by Bart Williamson in 1969.

Griffin quarterback Joe Roth hit 19 of 30 passes for 180 yards. Wide receiver Dave Oliver nabbed 11 passes for 120 yards. He now has caught 22 passes for 238 yards in the last two games.

Grossmont travels to Chaffey Saturday night for a 7:30 game.

Art Hafey Scores 21st K.O.

Last week he was number 5. Tomorrow he may be world champion.

Local fight fans are agog over the performances of the little featherweight knockout artist Art Hafey who racked up his 31st victory and his 21st knockout Friday at the Coliseum in San Diego.

He finished off the classy Filipino fighter Ad Zapanta (13-2-2) in 3:2 of the second round. California Athletic Commission rules require that a knockout count to continue if it runs past the end of the round. Thus, Zapanta was ruled knocked out two seconds after the second round ended.

Hafey, only 5'2" is one of the hardest hitters in his class who is improving with every fight. His form is simple. He unleashes a devastating attack on his opponent's midriff. When that brings his hands down to protect his middle, Hafey goes to work on his head. It works.

In two other 10 rounders a featherweight Donny Cruz outclassed Jesus Robles and lightweight Gregg Potter demolished Julio Lope.

Next week Chu Chu Garcia of Reynosa, Mexico meets Renata Garcia (no relation) in a junior middleweight fight. Chu Chu replaces Dave Love who was scheduled to fight Reanata but Love made the mistake of booking himself against George Cooper, the state middleweight champion lasted seven rounds but is ineligible to fight for 30 days. That, too, is a ruling of the State Athletic Commission which affects any fighter who suffers a k.o.

But Chu Chu will be a worthy antagonist for Renata. Last week Chu Chu lost a close decision to Hedgemon Lewis. Lewis is listed as number one (behind the champ) in California.

In another 10-rounder, lightweight Tony Ballard of El Cajon meets Felix Jasso of Tijuana. Another 10-rounder will make up the card.

Due to a substitution for Love, the scale has been reduced to $7.50 down to $3.

Race Slated For Cajon Saturday

The 2nd race in the West Coast Championship series will be run this Saturday, Oct. 20th at Cajon Speedway. Qualifying at 6:30 p.m., racetime at 8:00 p.m.

A $4,000 purse with $1000 to win in the 100 lap main event. Program will include a 30 lap semi main, 2 twenty lap consolation heats and a 6 lap trophy dash.

24 cars will start in the main and semi main with all stock cars eligible with a 109" wheel base and over with a 3,000 lb. minimum weight.

The race of champions will feature Ivan Baldwin, NAS-CAR champ, Tdit Bradshaw, Bakersfield champ, Romie Alderman the Las Vegas winner and Cajon's Pat McIntyre, 1973 champion with many out of town cars and 40 local entrants.

Griffs Water Polo Team Still Red Hot

Grossmont College continued to dominate the Mission Conference in water polo last week as coach Dave Milovich's Griffins rolled past Riverside City College, 19-5 and Palomar, 11-5.

The Griffins are now 6-0 against conference teams and 14-1 for the season. Grossmont will complete the first round of conference play Tuesday at Citrus College. Friday the Griffins host San Bernardino.

Local School District Included In $45 Million Child Care Program

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District was one of the school areas included in a new $45 million child care program.

California Health and Welfare Secretary Earl Brian announced the signing of three Agency agreements with the State Department of Education to provide the money for the programs throughout the state.

The total represents $11,300,000 in state funds, and a matching federal share of $34,255,000.

Brian said one of the agreements makes $13.6 million available for 1973-74 to expand Children's Centers services, support new local projects, and develop and test innovative child care programs, thereby implementing provisions of the Child Development Act of 1972 (AB 99). The other two agreements provide matching Federal funds for Children's Centers, Campus Children's Centers, WIN Child Care and Migrant Day Care, Brian said.

"I am extremely pleased to announce these agreements," Brian said, "since we have been concerned about possible cutbacks in Federal funding of child care programs in California. This assures us that these critical services will be maintained."

Approximately 28,000 children are currently served in programs covered by the three agreements.

Brian said the agreements extend the framework developed in June for expanding statewide programs for comprehensive child care services. "We can now expand the programs to serve approximately 7,500 more children," he said. "County and local school districts have been notified that they can expect to add more children, and 40 new local agency, foundation and school district projects already have been approved for funding."

"The money will expand existing programs and test new ways of providing child care services," Brian said. "Our goal is to come up with a range of alternative methods that will provide quality child care and development services to low-income families and welfare recipients. After testing, these programs can then serve as models for the existing child care system."

"Innovative programs include neighborhood home care ventures, local government efforts, and privately-operated programs and also may include 24-hour programs for night and swing-shift workers."

Children's Centers and Campus Children's Centers are administered by local school districts, community agencies, and colleges and universities under the supervision of the Department of Education. Migrant Day Care Programs are administered through the department's regional offices throughout the state.

Federal and state funds for these programs and new innovative projects are provided through departments of the Health and Welfare Agency, the Agency's Office of Educational Liaison and the State Department of Education.

The agreement, which covers Child Development Act expansion and innovation funds, provides for sound program monitoring procedures, development of a program management information system, cost measurement and evaluation studies.

The purpose of the expansion and innovation projects is to determine:

- (1) Types of alternative child care arrangements from which best meet the needs of parents through the state.
- (2) Kinds of innovative model programs which can be effectively incorporated into the present system.
- (3) The most effective administrative system for management and fiscal control in providing these services.

CHP Warns On Burglar Alarms

The California Highway Patrol will move to prohibit sale of vehicle burglar alarms which simulate a siren sound, Commissioner Walter Pudinski said.

The law permits sirens only on emergency vehicles, but an "increasing number of alarm systems available to the public sound like a siren." Other systems using bells or horns are legal, he said.

Highway Patrol retail outlet inspectors will take action to forbid sale of alarm devices advertised as "incorporating an electronic siren" or "featuring the latest sound used by police, fire and emergency vehicles."

If necessary, the Patrol will purchase a device for testing, Pudinski said. Information on illegal alarms will be provided to all Patrol offices so steps can be taken to prevent sale. Findings also will be furnished to manufacturers.

Models Readied For Week-end Showing at S.D. Country Estates

SAN DIEGO COUNTRY ESTATES — Formal opening of five furnished and decorated model condominium units at this private resort community in the San Vicente Valley will be held Saturday and Sunday, it was announced by Bill Watt, co-developer and executive director of the project.

The models illustrate the varied floor plans available in the planned condominium complex to be built on a 29-acre park-like setting adjacent to the San Vicente Country Club golf course. All of the condominiums in the complex will be two-story units.

The 54 units comprising the first increment, 45 of which have already been sold from plans alone, will be completed December 1. Preliminary work is now under way on the next unit of 110 condominiums, with actual construction scheduled to start February 1, 1974.

More than $12,000,000 has already been spent on land improvements in the community, including the San Vicente Country Club and the International Equestrian Center.

The 3,200-acre community, located in the scenic and secluded San Vicente Valley, 38 miles northeast of San Diego, has been master planned to combine the beauty and tranquility of country living with the amenities of modern life.

Homesites range from one-quarter to three acres and are priced from $12,000 to $29,500. Most are contiguous to park-life preserves that mark the 1,000 acres of permanent open space.

Marketing Ban Lifted On Some Health Plans

Three of the seven prepaid health plans serving Medi-Cal beneficiaries in San Diego County have received approval of their proposals to meet stringent new state guidelines governing door-to-door solicitation of enrollments, State Health Director J. M. Stubblebine, M.D., announced.

The guidelines spell out the requirements for lifting of the ruling that recently suspended all door-to-door Medi-Cal marketing in San Diego, Los Angeles, and Orange counties. The other four local health plans have not yet submitted the necessary documentation for approval, Dr. Stubblebine said. Not all of the Medi-Cal plans use the technique, he added.

The prepaid health plans (PHPs) are an alternative way for Medi-Cal beneficiaries to receive their benefits under the state-federal health care program for California's low income population.

Plan By Plan
The suspension is being lifted on a plan-by-plan basis as the new standards governing enroller training and contents of the enroller's basic presentation of information are met. "Reinstatement of this method of directly marketing prepaid health services to the health care consumer is conditional during a 30-day evaluation period," Dr. Stubblebine said.

"With these new safeguards for the consumer, door-to-door solicitation will be more acceptable and effective in the effort to let the Medi-Cal beneficiary know there is a new way to receive Medi-Cal services," he said.

"Door-to-door marketing is not a right, conferred by a Medi-Cal contract with the state," the director continued. "We regard it as more of a privilege granted to those health plans which demonstrate their ability to accurately represent their services."

New Guidelines
Under the new guidelines, both the health plan and the State Department of Health will check with each new enrollee before the enrollment contract becomes effective.

"If our close watch on enrollment turns up any suspected misrepresentation, the case will be referred to our investigations section," Dr. Stubblebine said.

"If we feel there, actually has been a misrepresentation, we will turn the evidence over to the district attorney for prosecution." Fines for violations or contract suspensions could result, he said.

"Some Problems"
Commenting on the overall performance of the state's 49 PHPs, which serve almost 200,000 Medi-Cal beneficiaries, Dr. Stubblebine said, "We have had some problems, but the PHPs have demonstrated their ability to provide quality services and the much needed access to care that many Medi-Cal people have not had in the past."

"The health plans have been most anxious to prevent any further abuses of the program. We have found them very cooperative in meeting the new guidelines and we are confident that our joint efforts to upgrade their marketing practices to a level consistent with the health care they provide will be successful," he concluded.

StateWelfare Aid Declines For 73-74

Welfare Director David B. Swoap has announced a downward revision of 58,000 in the estimated average monthly total of persons on welfare in California in fiscal 1973-74.

In May it was projected that an average of 1,970,000 persons a month would be on public assistance rolls during the fiscal year ending next June 30. The revised monthly forecast shows an average of 1,912,000 a month for the year.

"This decrease in our estimate is the result of an actual average decline of 22,250 persons a month since May when the most recent current year estimate was made," Swoap said.

The decrease includes a slight caseload increase of 3,437 for the month of August. At the end of August, the number of people in all categories of public assistance stood at 1,928,300.

This was 154,821 less than last year, and 365,606 less than in March 1971.

Categories increasing in August were Aid to Families with Dependent Children, 2,177 persons; Aid to the Disabled, 1,912; and Aid to the Blind, 46. General Home Relief, funded and administered by the counties showed an increase of 248 persons.

A decrease of 946 persons occurred in the Old Age Security category.

The August increase was only the fifth occurring during the 29 months since March, 1971, when Governor Reagan's welfare reform program began to take effect.

"The largest part of the increase came in urban areas in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children category," Swoap said. "Increased prices, particularly for food, have probably had an effect on the boarder-line group of families who are not on welfare but can qualify. In light of rising prices, they may have chosen to apply for aid."

State's Handicapped Are Local Deputy Hired In Large Numbers Promoted

Almost 18,000 of California's work-ready handicapped citizens got jobs last fiscal year with the help of the State Department of Human Resources Development (HRD), Health and Welfare Secretary Earl Brian has announced.

"That is a 38 percent increase over HRD's efforts in this area during the previous fiscal year," Brian added. "We're pleased to report this accomplishment now for several reasons," he added. "First and most important, it means more employers are

Drivers Get Break On 1975 License

About a half-million California drivers, whose licenses ordinarily would expire in 1974, will get a free ride next year and will be notified that their license period has been extended until their birthdays in 1975.

State Department of Motor Vehicles Director Robert C. Cozens announced that the department is randomly selecting 500,000 drivers whose records are clear of serious violations or accidents and will mail them automatic extension certificates good for one year.

The extensions were authorized when Governor Ronald Reagan signed SB 1301, authored by Senator Fred Marler of Redding. It will help to equalize the workload of DMV, Cozens said.

Cozens explained that about 17 percent more licenses will expire in 1974 than in previous years. This was caused by legislation passed in 1965 which reduced the maximum license term from five years to four.

Out of Phase
"This resulted in five-year licenses getting out of phase and jamming our offices every four years," Cozens said. "In 1970 the situation was especially hectic."

Certificates of extension will be mailed near the end of October to approximately 50,000 persons whose licenses are due to expire in January of 1974. Thereafter, 40 to 50 thousand extensions will be mailed monthly until the volume of renewal applicants is stabilized.

"We should be able to equalized the number of our renewals in three to four years under this program," Cozens stated.

Only motorists with no serious violations or accidents in three years of driving will be selected by DMV's computer for automatic extension.

Computer Selection
"Obviously, not everyone in that category will be selected because more will qualify than we need to extend," Cozens stated. "This computerized random selection is the best and fairest method we could come up with."

About four and one half million driver's licenses are issued annually by the Department each year, of which three million are renewals. "This puts quite a heavy load on the less than 500 examiners in the state," Cozens concluded, "and the additional 17 percent every four years strains their ability to administer tests efficiently."

learning that it's ability — not disability — that counts when hiring an employee. It also helps us focus more attention on this matter this month — Hire the Handicapped Month — in the State of California.

"Each HRD office has a specially trained consultant responsible for services to the handicapped. Special attention is needed if the applicant is blind or deaf, a victim of cerebral palsy, epilepsy, or has an orthopedic disability. The consultant must consider each applicant individually, not as a member of a group with a common disability. Then if the individual's skills meet the demands of the job, the prospective employer and employee are brought together," Brian explained.

"From my perspective, it also is important to remind everyone of the accomplishments of the Department of Rehabilitation in this area. That department placed 13,573 handicapped people in jobs last fiscal year. So between these two departments, 31,551 handicapped people were able to become productive members of our State's labor force," Brian said.

'Strike Force' Sets SD Workshop Nov. 3

San Diego will be the site of the third in a series of statewide "Strike Force" workshops devoted to problems of drug abuse, venereal disease, alcoholism and dental disease in California communities.

Kenneth C. Forror, M.D., Kiwanis International official and co-coordinator for the Saturday Nov. 3 meeting, announced that workshops are bringing together county health and mental health officials, service clubs involved in community health efforts, community leaders and interested citizens.

Assisted as coordinator by Philip Robinson, immediate past governor of Kiwanis, Dr. Forror said representatives of a large number of community organizations from Imperial and San Diego Counties are expected to attend the all-day session at the Hanalei Hotel.

Morning agenda for the workshop will include a keynote speech by Earl Brian, M.D., California Secretary of Health and Welfare. Dr. Forror will open the meeting, followed by remarks from Dr. Donald G. Ramras, assistant director of San Diego County Department of Health.

Presentations will be made by state officials on each of the major health problems. Closing the morning session will be the outline of a Strike Force master plan by David A. Winston, assistant secretary in Brian's agency.

In the afternoon participants will form discussion groups to identify problems, define community projects and organize for a united effort in the prevention and treatment of drug abuse, VD, alcoholism and dental disease on community levels.

Gas Tank Drive Caps Clean Air

A special "Don't Top Off My Tank" program will highlight the Lung Association's 1974 observance of Cleaner Air Week in San Diego County.

Cleaner Air Week is being observed throughout the United States during the week of October 15. The special "Don't Top Off My Tank" program is designed to conserve energy and to reduce air pollution which results from spillage caused by the over-filling of automobile gasoline tanks.

Widespread efforts will be conducted by volunteers in San Diego during the week to distribute educational material and a special gasoline tank cap stickers. The sticker, placed on or near the gasoline tank cap, will remind the gasoline station attendant not to fill the automobile gas tank to the brim.

It is estimated that 11 tons of hydrocarbons are released into California's air every day as a result of gasoline tank spillage. Not only does spillage occur at the time the tank is filled at the gasoline station, but it can occur when automobiles are parked on an unlevel surface.

Educational material and the gasoline tank cap stickers are available free of charge from the Lung Association. Persons interested in receiving this material may call their Christmas Seal Association for more information at 297-3901.

Filtration Plans Eyed

The San Diego County Water Authority will study in detail eight of 27 possible plans for providing filtered water to San Diegans after Feather River water becomes available, the CWA board decided this week.

Colorado River water, now being used, will be blended with water from the north in early 1975. State health officials have said that supplies from the California Aqueduct will not meet minimum purity standards without full filtration, including coagulation and sedimentation.
